Step 1: Place grab handle with the rectangular section on the top side of the roll bar with the Velcro facing upwards. Fig A

Step 2: Start by wrapping one of the ends around the roll bar, pass the end thru the buckle. Then wrap strap up around roll bar ensuring strap is pulled tight and Velcro is secure. Fig B

Step 3: Move to the other outer strap, pull all slack out of the grab handle to ensure the grab handle is as close to the roll bar as possible. Then repeat step 2 on the outer strap. Fig C and then B.

Step 4: If your grab handle is equipped with a center strap, repeat step 2 on the center strap. Fig D

Step 5: Periodically check tightness and condition of all straps and Velcro. Discontinue use if strap or Velcro is damaged, decayed, or has lost its ability to secure tightly.

Maintenance: Ingress of dust and dirt can permanently damage the fibers of the grab handle.

Periodically wash your grab handles with a diluted mild laundry detergent and warm water. Rinse completely with cool water and allow to air dry (no direct sun light) before re-installing.
